

As one of the newest Featured Builders chosen for Reunion Resort, we hope to be your Builder of Choice for your home!

Why You should choose McNally for your Reunion Home:

- ❖ McNally has the longest-standing and most successful homebuilding history of our Reunion competition, having founded the company in 1850 and now entering into our Sixth Generation of McNally sons at the helm.
- ❖ McNally offers superior design, outstanding quality & the finest craftsmanship at the most competitive pricing. We have worked extensively to provide Reunion homeowners with the best possible home plans for both 35' and 55' lot sizes AS WELL AS unique, custom home plans for our owners building their dream vacation homes.
- ❖ McNally is a true “custom” homebuilder, working individually with each client to achieve both your design and financial objectives. Our approach is unlike our competition – we carefully work through each step of the design/build process with your input as our equal partner. We provide the right home at the right price for each individual homeowner.
- ❖ McNally will provide you with the utmost in terms of both product and level of customer service. We were one of the original builders selected by Disney to build in the Town of Celebration, in large part due to our high quality level and high homeowner satisfaction rating, and have successfully completed over 60 estate homes in this award-winning community.
- ❖ McNally Homes is a Founding Member of the Master Custom Builder Council, a highly-select group of builders with a long history of building quality custom homes in the Orlando and surrounding areas.
- ❖ McNally Homes' approach in joining design and construction functions contributes to our successful value engineering allowing our clients to enjoy a greater continuity of service.
- ❖ McNally Homes' expert value engineering – advising owners on where to maximize their investment dollars to realize the “biggest bang for the buck” results in tremendous savings of time & money for our clients.
- ❖ McNally Homes never take our clients for granted. We consider it a privilege to serve our homeowners, entrusting us with a very important financial & lifestyle decision, and treat each client with the high level of honesty & integrity that we would personally expect.
